YOUTH, 18, SHOT FATALLY, STEPFATHER WOUNDED DURING HOLDUP ATTEMPT

Shotgun blast leaves intended victim critical

BENNIE EARL DRAIN

PLUMMER LOVELACE

An 18-year-old youth was left dead on the sidewalk and two other men remained in critical condition at Marion County General Hospital Thursday afternoon as the result of an alleged robbery attempt at a Haughville bootleg establishment early Monday morning.

Dead from a .45 caliber bullet which struck him in the mouth is Bennie Earl Drain, 18, 2033 W. 63rd, one of the alleged holdup men. In critical condition at General Hospital are Robert H. Lewis, 42, 2033 W. 63rd, the dead youth's stepfather, who also has been accused in the abortive robbery attempt, and Plummer Lovelace, 53, 1047 Belmont, who, police say operated an after hours whiskey outlet from his home.

Lovelace told the detectives that the younger man (Drain) had come to the house and purchased a half-pint of gin. Before Drain left, the detectives were told, Lovelace answered a knock on the door and

Ala. exhausts last legal step to halt 'mixing'

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—With the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling Wednesday on the segregation school policy followed in this state, Alabama's last legal step to bar integration among pupils and teachers was exhausted.

The state had contended before the court that state officials have no authority to control the action of local school boards in the assignment of pupils and teachers. It had specifically questioned the first statewide desegregation order handed down March 22 by a three-judge panel which ruled that the state government itself was responsible for eliminating racial segregation plus the effects of past discrimination.

The judges said in their

Civil rights leader to speak in All-Souls special series

Atty. Vernon E. Jordan Jr., Depauw University graduate and civil rights leader now of Atlanta, Ga., will return to Indiana Sunday, Dec. 10, to speak locally at All Souls Unitarian Church, 5805 E. 56th.

His topic at 9:15 a.m. and 11 a.m. services is "Southern Politics." His appearance is part of the All Souls' "Frontiers of Knowledge" series.

Atty. Jordan this year was sponsored by the Montgomery, Ala., Jaycees as one of 10 annual-honored "Outstanding Men of America." In 1966 he was appointed by President Lyndon B. Johnson to the White House Conference, "To Fulfill These Rights." He is also by Presidential appointment a member of the National Advisory Commission on Selective Service.

Currently director, voter education project, Southern Regional Council Inc., Atlanta, Atty. Jordan, 32, is a native of that city. He received his A.B. from Depauw in 1957 and law degree from Howard University in 1960. He was Georgia Field Director of the NAACP from 1961 to 1963, and held earlier posts with the Voter Education Project in 1963 and 1964. ### Need to recruit young Negroes for some trades

GARY—A drive to get Negro youths into the apprenticeship program of Local 697 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) should be the major concern now, a Negro who was recently accepted as a member of the labor group said this week.

Lawrence Hemmons, owner of Solar-Ray Electrical Contractors, said that he also employs two card-carrying members of Local 697 who are journeyman electricians. He also told the Gary Human Relations Commission that another employee is enrolled in the local's apprenticeship program.

The three are the only Ne-

Studies reveal prejudice sentiments against Negroes by white policemen

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Studies made by a Michigan sociologist in Boston, Chicago, and Washington, revealed prejudiced sentiments on the part of white police more than three-fourths of the time and "close to half of all the police officers in predominantly Negro high-crime rate areas showed extreme prejudice against Negroes."

This report, released to President Lyndon B. Johnson's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, means that three out of four white policemen in mostly Negro precincts of the selected northern cities had prejudiced attitudes toward Negroes.

Prof. Albert Reiss of the University of Michigan, whose testimony before the commission Sept. 21 was made public Tuesday, stated that by "extreme prejudice" he meant the tendency on the part of white officers to describe Negroes "in terms of the animal kingdom" or in other extreme fashions.

Prof. Reiss said that in the 5,360 confrontations between citizens and police that were observed as the basis for the study, obvious prejudice was actually displayed toward the civilian in only two percent of the cases, including prejudice toward white as well as Negro.

He added that prejudice of a degree slighter than obvious was displayed in another six percent of the sample.

The sociologist's report indicated that police officers behaved in a hostile or brusque manner toward citizens in 11 percent of the encounters observed, but they did so "without regard to the race or social class of citizens." He pointed out that the probability of such treatment was much greater when the citizen failed to show "deference" to the officer.

Prof. Reiss discovered that whites are more apt to have undue force used against them than Negroes and deviates are more likely to experience undue use of force than other citizens.

He cautioned the commission by stating that while questionable police practices could not be tolerated in a democratic society, it would be "misguided" to

Indict father in poisoning of 7 children

TAMPA, Fla.—A warrant is expected to be issued for a 33-year-old migrant fruit picker whom the Hillsborough County Grand Jury indicted on a first degree murder charge Tuesday.

The jury handed down its decision in the case of James J. Richardson after deliberating behind closed doors for 10 hours. Mr. Richardson was charged in the parathion poisoning deaths of his seven children.

The 22-member panel accused Mr. Richardson, who was picking oranges the day his children died, of killing his eldest child, Betty Jean, 8. The other six children were not mentioned in the indictment. All seven died Oct. 25-26 after eating a luncheon stew containing the deadly insecticide, parathion.

Government failure to react to protest could mean chaos

ATLANTA, Ga.—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. foresees chaos next year if the Federal government fails to respond with meaningful social and economic reforms as a result of the mass civil disobedience drive which the Noble Peace Prize minister has been in private session planning in recent weeks.

The noted civil rights leader announced Tuesday that thousands of demonstrators will gather in Washington, D.C., next spring and halt Federal activities until the Government "moves against poverty."

"God only knows what we will face in terms of chaos," Dr. King remarked in anticipating possible violence if the Government fails to act favorably to the long-planned non-violent campaign.

Dr. King spoke seriously of the possibility of persistent urban riots and called his direct action drive "a last desperate attempt" to get the nation to respond to nonviolent action.

Dr. King's planned operation will include an estimated 3,000 people from 10 major cities and five rural areas who will be recruited to make up the nucleus of protesters that finally will enlarge to number "way up into the thousands."

This central group of demonstrators will be trained for three months in nonviolent discipline and will be prepared for jail or forceful oppression, Dr. King emphasized. "I imagine the Army may try to run us out," he opined.

Although first outlined on Aug. 16, the decision to begin the protest "about April 1" was made last week at Frogmore, S.C., where Dr. King met with his staff of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Dr. King did not elaborate on

Non-Partisans to nominate slate for school board

In an effort to have the most wide-spread city representation on the Indianapolis Board of School Commissioners, the Non-Partisans for Better Schools is having a reorganizational meeting open to the public Monday, Dec. 11, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium on the Mezzanine of the City-County Building.

The Non-Partisans are sponsoring this meeting to select, nominate and support the candidates of the citizens' choice for the school board. They emphasize that citizens do have an opportunity to choose their leaders.

The Indianapolis School Board consists of seven elected commissioners who are responsible for the entire operation of the city schools, including what school a child attends, what he studies, where and how he gets to school, who teaches him and how much money is to be spent to give a child an education.

The temporary steering committee includes Dr. F. Benjamin Davis, Amelia G. Cook, Sigmond J. Beck, Helen McCalment, Faye Williams, Julia Fangmeier, Bruce Richards, Mary Fink, Harold Stadler, Mary Elizabeth Streeter, Rudolph R. Schreiber, and Marjorie Williams.

Danger of segregated U. S. schools

WASHINGTON, D.C.—There is a real danger of the United States becoming another South Africa in regards to segregated schools, the U.S. commissioner of education said recently.

However, Harold Howe II noted: "The danger we run is becoming a South Africa without really knowing it and without admitting it to ourselves." Mr. Howe noted that South Africa officially observes a rigid policy of apartheid, or separation of the races.

The U.S. official made his remarks on the brink of two studies which said that Negro children bused to middle-class schools did not achieve more scholastically. During a recent conference in Washington, Negro civil rights leaders displayed more interest in improving segregated Negro schools than for integration. Mr. Howe expressed agreement with the aim of better education for Negro pupils.

Poverty war shift of control okayed

Control of the local War on Poverty program may be in the hands of the incoming Republican administration consistent with the agreement on a bill Tuesday by the House and Senate in Washington, D.C., which designates that local public officials should maintain major authorization over community antipoverty projects.

This means that GOP Mayor-elect Richard Lugar may be ex-officio head over all Indianapolis Community Action Against Poverty programs including the Legal Services Organization, Martindale Area Citizens Service, Human Resource Development, Neighborhood Youth Corps, and Indianapolis Pre-School.

Agreement on the compromise antipoverty program was reached after 11 rugged days of bargaining, calls for a two-year program funded at 1.98 billion the first year and $2.29 billion the second year.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), chairman of the Senate conferees, called the bargaining sessions concerning the House provision to put community action programs under local control.

Carmichael allowed to enter France

PARIS — High authorities interceded on behalf of Stokely Carmichael and allowed the controversial U.S. "black power" advocate to enter France Wednesday after police had held him overnight at the Orly Hotel for being an "undesirable foreigner."

Mr. Carmichael came to Paris from Stockholm, Sweden, to address a rally Wednesday night opposing the Vietnam War. No attempt to have Mr. Carmichael barred from France was made by the U.S. Embassy, according to a spokesman.

Supporters of the antiwar rally said they had made "vigorous protests" against Mr. Carmichael's being held and were preparing to take legal steps if necessary to get him admitted.

The group contended that Mr. Carmichael's views are "very close to those of French authorities." President Charles de Gaulle has frequently stated his opposition to American intervention in Vietnam.

Mr. Carmichael has been on an extended tour of Cuba, North Vietnam, Africa and Europe. He made several speeches in Denmark and Paris. U.S. officials have indicated that Mr. Carmichael's passport will be lifted when he returns to that country.

Many of the girls have already been hired by local beauty operators but several others are still on the waiting list. Roales suggested that local firms needing a well trained cosmetologist contact the Indiana State Employment Service as soon as possible.

Gary mayor-
victory in south

ATLANTA — (NPI)—"The day is not very far away that Negroes will aspire to and achieve any office in the South."

That was the view of Richard G. Hatcher, Gary's mayor-elect, who predicted that some Southern cities will elect black mayors "in the near future."

Hatcher singled out Atlanta as a city which may soon have a Negro mayor. Atlanta, which now is 35 per cent Negro, is expected to have a black majority within a decade.

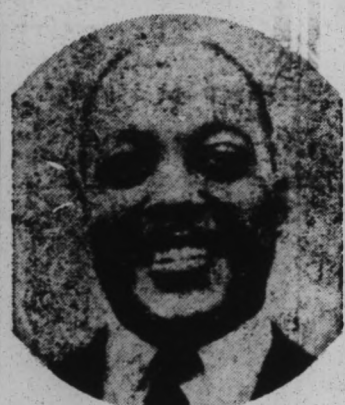

He, however, declined to single out any prospective mayor of Atlanta, declaring that the city "has many fine Negroes."

Bill provides for federal standards for all meats

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Under a bill passed last month by the Senate in three years all meat sold in the United States must meet or surpass Federal standards of purity and wholesomeness.

The Federal standards would apply to some 15,000 meat producing plants not now coming under Washington or equivalent state regulations. The House's more moderate bill authorized Federal aid to pay up to half the cost of improving state meat inspection programs.

The aid provision, estimated to cost $4 million a year at the outset and increase to $15 million later, also is part of the Senate proposal. The Senate's resolution will force improved inspection of meat which is produced and sold within the borders of a single state, and thus is not covered by the 60-year-old Federal inspection program.

States would be given two years to enact meat inspection programs at least equivalent to the Federal system with a third year authorized if action is imminent. The Federal inspection program would take over if a state did not act within the time limit.

The senate bill also provides that the secretary of agriculture can immediately impose Federal standards at the request of any state governor, and the secretary can impose Federal inspection on any meat plant if he finds it is producing meat products which endanger public health or which are adulterated.

$1,000 offered by Gregory to prove faking

CHICAGO—(NPI) — Dick Gregory is fasting again. And this time he's offering $1,000 to anyone who can prove his fast has been phony.

The comedian, who has vowed to fast until Christmas in protest against the Vietnam war, said he would drink only distilled water until his fast ended.

A couple of years ago, he went on a fast in the county jail that ended before the announced time because—he said—he didn't want to be responsible for a jail disturbance.

During his latest fast, he will maintain his schedule of appearances across the nation, he said.

Lady Sara-Lou Carter's charm, wit and poise add to her interesting talk for Fortnightly Literary Club and guests

By PAT W. STEWART
Women's Editor

The charming and pretty Lady Sara-Lou Carter, wife of Sir John Carter, Guyana's Ambassador to the United States, Canada and the United Nations, traveled to the Hoosier capital aboard a jet last weekend to speak to members of the prominent Fortnightly Literary Club and their overflow audience in the Hurricane Room of the Marriott Hotel.

With the coming of Lady Carter to Indianapolis for "Guest Day," the club introduced to local society something appreciative and special in the way of a cultural, refined and enlightening program.

Lady Carter, of Washington, D.C., was introduced by Mrs. John Conley, a member of the planning committee who contacted Lady Carter about coming here after the death of Mrs. Elythe Belle Walker, who was a club member. Mrs. Harry Hawkins was the general chairman. Mrs. Mark Batties served on the committee.

Recordings of "Piano Selections of Chopin" and Brahms' "First Symphony" were played as the ladies arrived. Preceding Lady Carter's talk, Miss Ivalie Robinson, a talented harpist, played "Fraicheur" by Salzedo, and "Song Without Words" by Dubez.

As Mrs. George K. Bolen said after Lady Carter's interesting, knowledgeable speech, she "certainly won't place in our hearts." With grace, dignity and friendliness, Lady Carter spoke on the history of Guyana, located on the northeast coast of South America. She touched on the fashion trends of ladies in Guyana and emphasized that education is stressed there.

It was necessary for Lady Carter to tell the story in her talk since she acknowledged Dr. Benjamin A. Osborne in the audience whom she described as a "Son of Guyana." She also recognized Mrs. Robert Kent and Mrs. Naaman Landers among the lovely persons present.

Lady Carter met both 10 years ago when their sorority sponsored her in a fashion show here.

The first lady of Guyana became the first Negro woman to be a "poster girl" when she modeled for the American Tobacco Company. She recalled an interesting experience in "B. G.," as British Guyana is known, when at a fashion show she thought she would surprise the ladies with the then-popular "sack" dress. She asserted that the ladies "outsacked" her in appearance and attributed this to the fact that they are influenced by fashion magazines and styles in America, England, and Canada.

"The girls slightly shy and might not like the mini dress," she added. Herself wearing a striking hot pink ensemble with a matching hat, Lady Carter said that three out of five women in Guyana sew beautifully and all ladies are always dressed for a society party or "fete" as the young call a party.

Scholarships are available through the government on all levels of education, Lady Carter said.

Plans are completed for the annual card party sponsored by the Holy Angels Women's Society. The activity is Saturday, Dec. 16, in the Holy Angels auditorium, 28th and North-western, from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Donation is $1. Mrs. Robert Allen is chairman of the planning committee. All friends are invited to come out and enjoy an afternoon of fun and relaxation. Door prizes and many beautiful gifts will be offered.

The Bandives Club was highly entertained Saturday, Nov. 25, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight L. Carter, 4006 Grace-land.

After an interesting business portion of the meeting, the hosting couple celebrated the November birthdays of Mmes. Allen A. Grundy, John M. Hannah, and William H. Harrison. All members joined in to make this birthday celebration a memorable one.

Each couple present received prizes and gifts. The menu consisted of "soul food."

Members present in addition to the aforementioned honorees were Messrs. Grundy, Hannah, and Harrison, and Messrs. Otis A. Jones, and Cecil D. Ross. Absent members were Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Parker. The Grundys will host the December gathering.

Mrs. Richardson travelled to Indianapolis aboard Eastern Airline Jet with Lady Sara-Lou Carter, wife of Sir John Carter, Guyana's Ambassador to the United States, Canada and the United Nations. Mrs. Richardson is librarian at Crownsville State Hospital in Annapolis.

The Annapolis resident, who is well-known in Indianapolis social circles, was the guest of Mrs. J. Wallace Hall at a meeting Lady Carter addressed for

A CORSAGE was presented to Lady Sara-Lou Carter when she spoke here for the Fortnightly Literary Club at the Marriott Hotel on behalf of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. Making the presentation was Mrs. J. Rogers Cary (right), publicity chairman for the club and a local Delta. Lady Carter is an honorary member of the national sorority. stated. She described the people in Guyana, which gained its independence on May 26, 1966, as warm and friendly. She said Prime Minister L. F. S. Burnham is a "dynamic, young man."

Appropriately enough Lady Carter mentioned several noted authors in the country—the most familiar being Mr. Bright-Waite who wrote the outstanding book, "To Sir With Love," which was made into a movie. The play is the author's autobiography. His latest publications are "A Kind of Home Coming," "Paid Servant," and "A Choice of Straws." Lady Carter said the later book has movie potential, and some of the ladies in the audience acknowledged having read it.

Lady Carter, who said she was flattered and honored to be the guest speaker, charmingly mentioned the "marvelous hospitality" she experienced while in the city. She was honored at a Champagne Sip preceding the program Saturday night at the Epicurean Club given by Mr. and Mrs. Bolen. Mr. Bolen is a member of the Epicurean Club.

Also attending the gathering was Mrs. William H. (Eloise) Richardson of Annapolis, Md., a friend of Lady Carter and former Indianapolis resident. Mrs. Richardson accompanied Lady Carter to Indianapolis. She is the former women's editor of The Recorder and columnist for the Afro-American newspaper.

Mrs. Richardson was the special guest of Mrs. J. Wallace Hall at the program. The glamorous Lady Carter, who said she is 101 per cent American but prefers Guyana as a second choice for a home, received two lovely orchid corsages—one from members of the Fortnightly Literary Club and the other from Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Mrs. J. Rogers Cary, a Delta and Literary Club member, presented the corsage to Lady Carter who pledged to "try to be a good Delta."

Christmas projects sponsored by the Auxiliary are in the hands of Mrs. Howard, rehabilitation chairman; Mrs. Leon Hill, child welfare chairman; Mrs. G. L. Owsley, Knightstown Home chairman, and Mrs. Batties, assisting with Boys School and Girls School Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Leon Kennerly, finance chairman of patrons for the recent Veterans Day Tea, reported the success of the recent projects. Mrs. Eric Suter assisted her.

Gift shops sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary are now in progress in the Veterans hospitals. Gaillard unit urges everyone to remember to visit and send cards to those men in service and in hospitals to give them Christmas cheer at this season. Mrs. Batties is publicity chairman.

The club meets every first and third Friday of each month. The first meeting is a business session and the second gathering is a social meeting at which the members engage in some sort of group social activity.

The purpose of the Capezio Club is to provide social activities for its members, entertain others and promote community service projects throughout the year.

Officers for the current year are Mmes. Janene Stewart, president; Maxine Johnson, vice-president; Judy Edwards, recording secretary; Helen Crayton, corresponding secretary, and Joyce Evans, treasurer.

The club meets every first and third Friday of each month. The first meeting is a business session and the second gathering is a social meeting at which the members engage in some sort of group social activity.

The Capezio Club of Indianapolis held its first social function of the fall season. Members were hostesses at a "Taste Test Party," Nov. 10 in the home of Mrs. Joyce Evans, 2644 W. 22nd. Each member invited a guest.

A get-acquainted session preceded the party. Each member was responsible for bringing to the party a "cuisine specialty." These specialties were sampled by all and many favorable comments were received. Recipes were available if desired. Fruit punch was also served.

Following the "taste test" the members and their guests played charades and engaged in other "group mixing" activities.

Merriweather, Sears set cleaners' grand opening

Willie Merriweather and his partner, James Sears, announced this week the grand opening of their ultra-modern dry cleaning facilities on Saturday, Dec. 9, at 2 p.m. at the main plant, 3516 N. College. The chain currently has three locations, the other two being 663 E. 22nd and 301 W. McCarty.

On hand for the gala event will be State Representative Ray Crowe and members of the 1955 ISHAA State Championship team. Mr. Merriweather was a member of the 1955 Indiana All-Star Team. During his career as a starting member of the Purdue Boilermakers, Mr. Merriweather won All-Big-Ten and All-American honors and Big Ten scoring leader in 1959. After completing study for his masters degree at Purdue, Mr. Merriweather became an educator and businessman in the Detroit, Mich., area. Recognizing the need for a top quality dry cleaners in Indianapolis, he devoted much of his time to establishing Sears and Merriweather Cleaners.

James, Charles, and Ruth Sears are well-known in the business community having amassed over 72 years of professional know-how in dry cleaning. Jim, who has studied at the National Institute of Dry Cleaning, says: "One of the things we have noticed is a lack of personal attention to details such as spot removal, button replacement, and hand cleaning. We do these services and the customer does not have to pay for the extra care."

Charles Sears points out: "We re-texturize our garments. This gives them body, keeping them from looking longer." With the newer looking longer. With the large modern facilities they have, Sears and Merriweather Cleaners will be doing church choir robe dry cleaning and all other commercial work at a reduced commercial rate. Pick up and delivery service is also available.

Scranton Woman Better Next Day... Pain Of Piles Relieved

Treatment Promptly Relieves Pain, Itching In Most Cases

Scranton, Pa. Mrs. J. Stranieri, Jr. of this city writes: "When I had our son, I got hemorrhoids and how painful. My husband bought Preparation H for me. The next day, I was much better - just after using it once."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Gospel can be visualized as many different things, stained glass windows, a sacred cross, church pews. You might hear shouting, hand clapping, rhythm patting of feet and beautiful voices lifted in joyous song.

All of this may be considered as a part of Gospel, but the Christ Missionary Baptist Church, at Eugene and Rader Streets where Rev. Melvin B. Gorton is Pastor, will bring more than Gospel to the City.

Church Events

BY WILLA THOMAS

The Christian year of advent has begun with the coming of Dec. 3. This leads the Christians to inaugurate a four-week watch for the celebration of Christ's birthday Dec. 25.

The scriptures to be used during these days in many churches will be from the Old Testament. These verses will herald the birth of Jesus Christ. Next week I will start the background story leading to His birth.

THOMAS

Because God has been good to you, in your buying and giving this holiday season do not forget the needy. Mrs. Birdie Whiteside still could use money for candy, gum, booties and stockings for her Christmas project. Don't forget to share here. Your Christmas cards of 1966 are needed at First Baptist Church, N.I., by the Letha Ervin Junior High Sunday School class. Please take them to the church and leave them in the box in the education building.

Boilermakers look good despite defeat by UCLA

Anyone watching last Saturday night's UCLA-Purdue basketball game likely came up with one of two conclusions—either UCLA's not that tough, or Purdue is one helluva ball club.

The latter seems more appropriate, at least the pollsters think so as the Boilermakers occupied the No. 8 spot in the national rankings this week despite their 73-71 loss to the No. 1-rated Bruins.

The Purdue outshot and out-hustled Coach Johnny Wooten's crew. The only thing they didn't do was out-rebound them and no complaints were heard about that.

Led by potential All-American Rick Mount and Herman Gilliam, the Boilermakers all-most pulled off the upset of the century in college basketball, but UCLA guard Bill Sweek hit a jumper from 25 feet out with four seconds remaining and the Bruins won their 35th straight contest without a defeat.

It was Sweek's only basket of the evening.

Playing before 14,200 screaming fans in their new fieldhouse, the Purdue got off to a quick start as the 6-foot-4 Mount hit his first four baskets and Gilliam connected on four of five as Purdue led 33-25 with five minutes remaining in the first half.

Indiana Pacers to take on tough Buccaneers Saturday

The Western Division-leading New Orleans Buccaneers will visit the Indiana Pacers Saturday night at the Coliseum. The meeting will be the third for two outstanding clubs.

Indiana, only one-half game out of first place in the Eastern Division (as of Tuesday, is 6-5 former North Carolina star Doug Moe, and 6-4 Grambling ace James Jones.

Moe is the team's leading scorer with a 23.4 average, and Jones is close behind with 20.1. Four other Bucs also place in double figures—Jack Moreland (16.3), Jesse Branson (16.2), Austin Robbins (14.9), and Larry Grown (11.2).

Robbins, who stands 6-foot-8, is the team's leading rebounder with a 12.4 average per game. That's good enough for fourth place in the league.

Brown is the assist leader in the ABA with a 7.3 per game average.

New Orleans is the league's top offensive team, averaging 116.6 points a game. They are averaging 45 percent from the field, and 73 percent from the free throw stripe.

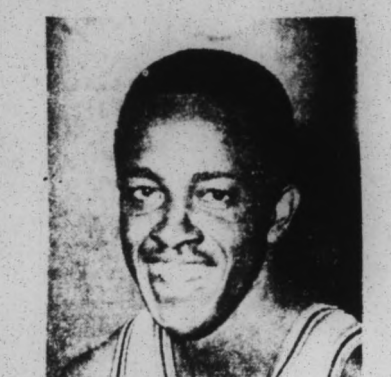

Indiana and New Orleans have met twice this season, the first time being Oct. 21 when the Pacers beat the Bucs, 114-111. The second meeting was Nov. 8 at the Coliseum where the Pacers were victorious, 109-101.

The Indiana club will travel to Houston Sunday and Dallas Monday before meeting Minnesota next Wednesday at New Castle.

Three men jumped the Anaheim Amigos for 21 points each Saturday night as the Pacers dumped the Amigos, 132-11. Bob Netolicky, Freddie Lewis and Jimmy Rayl tallied a total of 63 points.

Other Pacers scorers were Roger Brown with 17, Jerry Harkness 14, Bobby Edmonds 12, George Peoples 9, Ron Bonham 7, Oliver Darden 6, and Matthew

DOUG MOE
—Leading Scorer

Aitch, 4. Ron Kozlicki failed to score.

After trailing by as much as 21 points, the Pacers fought back to lose by only three points to the Pittsburgh Pipers Sunday night.

Connie Hawkins (29) and Charlie Williams (20) led the Pipers to their 12th win against 12 defeats.

For the Pacers it was Brown with 23 points, Lewis 21, Peoples and Edmonds 12 each, Harkness 10, Netolicky and Rayl 9 each, and Bonham and Darden 2 each.

Five basketball games on slate for weekend

Powerful Washington (3-0), led by big George McGinnis, will take its unblemished record to Lawrence Central (2-3), and Shortridge's Oscar Evans & Company (2-0) will host Wood's Woodchucks (1-2) Friday night in top games around the city and county.

On Saturday, always tough East Chicago Washington will visit Crispus Attucks (2-2), Marshall (2-1) will be at Wood, and Shortridge will journey to Pike (2-1).

The Continentals took their second victory Friday night on a 46-point performance of the 6-7 McGinnis, defeating Northwest, 83-76. McGinnis' 46 points was just two short of the school record of 48 set in 1948 by Jerry Lawlis.

It took a strong 33-point performance in the fourth quarter for Washington to pull it out as they trailed at the three-quarter mark.

TWINS TRADE 'MUDCAT' GRANT, VERSAILES FOR TWO DODGER PLAYERS

MEXICO CITY—(UPI) — In a headline-making move last week, the Minnesota Twins traded pitcher Jim (Mudcat) Grant to the Los Angeles Dodgers as part of a five-player deal. Grant, who slumped to 5-6 this season after his brilliant 21-7 won-lost record in 1965, was shipped to the Dodgers along with shortstop Zola Versailes in exchange for L. A. catcher John Roseboro and relief pitchers Ron Perranoski and Bob Miller.

JOE LOUIS WINS JAMES WALKER AWARD FOR BOXING CONTRIBUTIONS

NEW YORK—(UPI) — Without throwing a punch, Joe Louis, the former world heavyweight boxing champion, last week won the James Walker Memorial Award for his contributions to boxing. Louis, who won the title 30 years ago and subsequently defended it 25 times, reacted sentimentally to his election by the Boxing Writers Association. "It means," said Louis, "those guys still like old Joe."

Muskies, Buccaneers lead ABA in defense, offense

MINNEAPOLIS — Minnesota's Muskies have been banned from playing in the ABA by a Pittsburgh court order as the result of a suit filed on behalf of the Eastern Basketball League, lost nearly two points off his scoring average but still close to the 500-point mark in 19 games. The Muskies have thrown up the tightest defense in the fledgling professional league, allowing 19 opponents an average of 97 points a game, to climb to the top of the Eastern Division.

The Buccaneers have capitalized upon the ABA's most productive offense, scoring an average of 116.6 points in 18 games, to take first place in the Western Division.

But both teams have been almost unbeatable on their home courts. Minnesota took over the Eastern lead last Sunday by beating Indiana for its ninth straight victory at home. The Muskies are 9-2 for the year on the home court.

Similarly, New Orleans, which hasn't been out of the Western lead since the season began, has won 11 of 12 games at home, the only loss coming against Indiana when they led the Eastern Division.

On the road as of Nov. 30, Minnesota was 5-3 and New Orleans 2-4.

There was only one change among the individual statistical leaders during last week. Ron Perry of Minnesota took over first place in three-point field goal accuracy, making 18 of 40 attempts for a percentage of 45.0.

Levern Tart of Oakland, who Runner-up Bob Verga of Dallas crept a bit closer to the lead by hiking his average to 26.2 for 16 contests. Connie Hawkins of Pittsburgh is third at 23.9 in 19 games and Doug Moe of New Orleans is fourth at 23.4 in 18 games.

Minnesota's Mel Daniels and New Orleans' Larry Brown continue to hold wide leads in rebounding and assists respectively. Daniels has averaged 7.3 assists in 18 tilts.

Hawkins maintained his lead in two-point field goal accuracy, making 10 of 37 shots for 52 percent, and Bob Lloyd of New Jersey remained on top as the league's best free throw shooter, hitting 47 of 51 attempts for 92.2 percent.

In other team statistical departments, Dallas has the best shooting percentage on two-point field goals with 67.1 of 1,457 for 46.1 percent, while Minnesota leads in three-point shooting with 22 of 55 for 40 percent. Indiana is the league's best free throwing team with 545 conversions in 742 trips to the penalty stripe for a 73.5 percentage.

Grambling gridders wooed by pro scouts, but ignored by pollsters

GRAMBLING, La.—(UPI)—Grambling college was completely ignored by the wire service weekly polls this Fall, but don't be surprised if the Tigers have the last laugh.

While Coach Eddie Robinson and his talented Giants were being snubbed by Associated Press and United Press International pollsters, pro scouts were beating daily paths to the North Louisiana campus to watch likely leaders in pro rookie class of 1968.

It might even be said that Grambling ranks as a consensus choice of the pros.

Twenty-seven American and National Football League scouts watched the Tigers' defeat Texas Southern in mid-October. They converge on campus en masse through the football season.

Many insist that at least nine Grambling stalwarts will automatically qualify as early choices in the pro draft.

This is the biggest material bonanza at Grambling since 1961.

Football buffs are still intrigued by the fact that 15 players on the '61 club—generally regarded as the best team developed by Robinson—eventually played on AFL and NFL teams.

Twelve are still active; 20 Grambling graduates are listed on 1967 pro rosters.

Coach Robinson avows that his current crew, irresistible on offense, impregnable on defense, ranks in player quality with any team in the country.

Appropriately, the Tigers compiled an impressive 8-1 record in winning their third straight Southwestern Athletic Conference championship, and there is no apparent explanation why they were over-looked in weekly small-college polls unless they are considered a kind of superman species.

The awesome Tigers are so ponderous that they don't have a tackle weighing less than 250 pounds. Eighteen squad members weight 225 pounds or more and the starting line averages 240 pounds per man.

Flanker Keith Moore, 180 pounds, is the smallest Grambling player, while tackle Gerald Fields, the biggest, tips the scales at 300 pounds.

To give added indication of the team's enormous bulk, seven tackles boast a combined weight of 1,907 pounds, an average of 271.7 pounds per man.

Talent scouts are drooling over All-American candidates

Henry Davis, a tremendous 240-pound "blue chip" guard who holds the offensive line together, and big Richard Lee, a rugged 265-pound tackle whose exploits are so massive they sound exaggerated.

Both are rated among the finest prospects to grace a football field.

Emlen Tunnel, New York Giant defensive backfield coach, watched Davis intently in Spring drills and pointedly called him "the best" lineman produced at Grambling since "Buck" Buchanan.

Tackle Earnest Sterling, 250 pounds, guard Clarence Powell, 225; guard Harold Jones, 240, the little brother of All-Pro "Deacon" Jones of the Los Angeles Rams; halfback Essex Johnson, 185; Robert Atkins, and Wesley Bean, both 215, have made significant contributions while gaining wide individual recognition.

Atkins, a brilliant pass catcher and free safety, and Bean who doubles as a quarterback, field goal kicker and punter, can perform at different positions without signs of diminishing results.

Two more Grambling names keep cropping up in pro football conversations. They are James Harris, a quarterback equipped with a magnetic passing arm and diagnostic brain, flanker Charlie Joiner, 185 pounds, rated by many the best college player in the country at chasing an expertly-flung football.

Harris, a rangy 6-4, 210-pound junior, has completed 83 of 175 passes for 1,249 yards and 15 touchdowns.

By coach Robinson's own assessment, he is a pro star of the future.

Joiner, an ultra-dangerous receiver, has good hands, great speed and moves, and only needs an inch of daylight to maneuver with the ball. He has logged 32 receptions for 436 yards.

Grambling does everything with assembly-line precision.

The potent Tigers have racked up 3,335 yards in total offense in nine games, averaging 370.5 yards per outing, while mustering enough sophistication on defense to hold the opposition to 90.1 yards in rushing offense.

Intensely loyal fans proudly point out that SWAC is the toughest small-college conference in the country, and persist that the Tigers could make most teams in the AP and UPI top 10 salivate.

Two down, one to go for title for Ellis

LOUISVILLE — Jimmy Ellis, the man who was Cassius Clay's sparring partner, took one step further to the title held by Clay Saturday when he won a close 12-round unanimous decision over Argentina's Oscar (Ringo) Bonavena.

Ellis now has to be more victory to go to be heavyweight champion and he will get his chance against Thad Spencer or Jerry Quarry. Quarry and Spencer will meet Feb. 3 in Oakland, Calif., to decide who will face Ellis for the title.

Ellis, 27, floored Bonavena twice, once in the third and one in the 10th. Ellis' only mark was a cut over his left eye, suffered in the eighth round.

The Louisville fighter started strong, but seemed to run out of steam near the finish. Bonavena, who weighted 12 pounds more than did Ellis at 206½, almost overpowered Ellis with his strength in the late rounds of the nationally-televised bout.

A combination of rights and lefts to the head, thrown by the champion of Argentina, opened the cut over Ellis' eye in the eighth round. But by the time the ninth had opened, the cut had stopped bleeding and Ellis, son of a Baptist minister, seemed to have shaken off its effect.

Each fighter earned $75,000 for the afternoon's work and Ellis now stands to pick $125,000 when he goes into the title fight. It was set up by the World Boxing Association after it stripped Clay of his title for refusing to enter military service when he was drafted.

Referee Herman Duteix of New Orleans scored it 59-53 for Ellis; Judge Sid Baer of Louisville had it 55-54 for Ellis; and Judge Hector Chaumont of Buenos Aires had Ellis in front 59-53.

Detractors would destroy poverty problem

At every turn, the anti-poverty program seems to be in trouble. The loudest voices we hear these days are those that criticize the poverty program, who see it as a total waste and fail to see where it is doing any good.

We fail to see how this growing legion both in Congress and out of it could arrive at these deductions except that a fickle public and the political opportunists in Congress sense in the midst of the current revolution within the nation there is in the making the natural tendency to find a scapegoat, and that as of now the most convenient and the most logical scapegoat is the man whose influence has been mainly responsible for the Economic Opportunity program in America. And that man is Lyndon Baines Johnson.

For the miscarriages in the program these kind have placed the blame squarely at the door of the President and have allowed no room for stipulations as to the good and that has come out of this the most realistic effort the nation has ever made to reach the masses.

Out of this organization has come leadership we would never have discovered, some of them who a few months ago were part of the problem are today a part of the answer.

There are people who never had a part in anything much who are today serving in an admirable way as leaders in the community, as advisors in the matter of unemployment, and health and other socio-economic problems.

Those who want to look the other way will never see the difference, but even looking the other way they've got to be aware of the changes going on.

Howard R. Hooper

The death of Howard R. Hooper, prominent Indianapolis Attorney was a shock to our community. A Referee (Judge) in the Juvenile Court for over 14 years he served honestly and effectively.

He knew the problems of children from underprivileged homes. His understanding and his judgments reflected that understanding.

A veteran of World War I, an ardent churchman, and effective advocate at the bar, he was considered an outstanding appeals lawyer.

Fearless, courageous, he had strong convictions as to right and wrong. He would always be found on the right.

Hooper served 18 years as superintendent of the Sunday School at Bethel AME Church.

His church honored him by electing him as a delegate to General Conference upon two occasions where he served with distinction.

He was a student of his church history and was widely read in the law, literature and history.

He never lost his love for friends and truly valued those friendships.

A love of country was another attribute, though he knew his country had denied him justice and equity.

Our city has lost a good citizen, and his place will be hard to fill.

Negro Press Creed the United States of America can best lead the world away from racial and national antagonism when it accords every man, regardless of race, color or creed, his human and legal rights. Hating no man, fearing no man, the Negro Press strives to help every man in the firm belief that all are hurt so long as any one is held back.

Closing the job gap

by WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.

Do you know how much an average family of four needs to maintain a moderate living standard? According to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, the family must earn or have an annual income of $9,191 if they live in an urban area.

The figure is higher for some cities like New York ($10,195), and slightly lower for others. But any way you slice it, it's a lot of money, far beyond the reach of many Americans.

Only about one out of ten Negro families earns that much, and many can do it only because a higher proportion of wives and mothers work. Despite this, Negro families with two or more jobholders still earned less than the average white family with one working member.

These figures don't mean fancy living. A "moderate living standard" doesn't allow room for luxuries, but it is still a far cry from a survival living standard. This is about $3,300 for an urban family of four.

Yet even this very low income is beyond the reach of many Negro families. About two out of every five earn less, and live in poverty. The reason for this is that Negro workers tend to be concentrated in the lowest-paying jobs and they are most likely to become unemployed.

The figures for Negro unemployment are rising, and they now stand at 8.8 percent more than twice that for white workers. Some ghetto neighborhoods suffer unemployment to a degree not reflected in the official figures. Up to half the working population in these areas is unemployed.

These figures are disgraceful. No country can tolerate such widespread poverty, least of all the richest nation in the world. Closing the job gap has to be at the top of America's list of priorities.

The job gap is also a racial gap—it exists because of discrimination. Nothing else can explain the terrible gap in the income figures and in the unemployment figures. Negroes have persistently been thrust to the bottom of the economic ladder, and the figures prove it.

Government, industry, and labor will have to join in efforts to end this situation. During the Depression, when the whole country suffered from poverty and unemployment, massive public works projects were started to put men to work. We can do no less for today's minorities who suffer economic depression on an even wider scale.

In addition to job-creating projects which put people to work on socially useful programs, government can offer incentives to private industry to relocate in the ghetto. Fantastic subsidies are given to rich farmers not to grow certain crops, and many states and cities offer tax breaks to companies which relocate in their areas. The same inducements could be offered to firms which agree to hire and train the poor and which build in the ghetto.

Industry will have to do a lot more to hire Negroes. They will have to abandon some of the tests they use which are geared for middle-class whites and which work against Negroes, and replace them with more realistic standards which will measure the potential of a man to do the job.

Some companies report hiring anyone, no matter what their past records show. And the result has been a motivated competent work staff which surpassed their wildest dreams. U. S. industry has spent a lot of time and energy to exclude Negroes from all but the most menial jobs. It is time for them to spend at least as much energy on recruiting, hiring, and training Negroes for all available jobs.

Many labor unions will have to stop discriminating too. People are always shocked when I tell them that white dropouts earn more than Negro high school graduates. That is because Negroes often cannot get into high paying crafts because of discrimination.

Letters to the editor ...

Writer commends letter written by a reader

TO THE EDITOR:

I am glad someone recognized the conditional probability of the Indianapolis blacks and choose to speak the coterminous, conscious, irrefutable truth to let the facts be known to the blacks.

I am talking about the most appreciated and sincere letter to the editor from Mrs. Furniss S. Gilbert. Articles like these will make the blacks of Indianapolis start thinking about the real reason why they have to move out of their housing and apartment buildings and nothing is being built for them.

It is the friendship, devilish way of the diabolical whites to say behind our backs "blacks we do not want you in our society." But white we are here to stay and we don't want our pie in heaven. We want it on earth.

But the most unappreciated, insignificant, immature, psychopathic and preposterous thing I ever read was what Jerry Alexander wrote. He is an inmate at the reformatory. That's the main reason now why blacks are so confused and frustrated and don't know what way to turn and who to believe among blacks.

This is what you call a brainwashed black man. And not to mention that this is what the white man waits for - confusion among the blacks so he can pick you off like cherries on a tree and brainwash you and use you against one another.

And when the white man used you it's to his advantage and not yours. Blacks like Mr. Alexander are black in color, but are not black thinking brothers. And this is a struggle not for one "but" for all to join in and contribute to the black cause and not to condemn it and the blacks.

We need a million more blacks like Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown to open the minds and eyes of other blacks. If there is no struggle there is no progress. Those who profess to favor freedom and yet deprecate agitation are men who want crops without thunder and lightning. They want the ocean without the awful roar of its many waters. This struggle may be both moral and physical, but it must be a struggle. Power concedes nothing without a demand. It never did and it never will. Men - blackmen - may not get all they pay for in this country but black men must certainly pay for all they get if we are to get free from the oppressions and wrongs heaped upon us. We must pay for their removal. We must do this by labor, by suffering, by sacrifice, and if need be by our lives and the lives of others.

Average inmates life is told in prisoner's poem

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following poem was submitted by Ben Hardesty Davis, No. 49375, Box 28, The Indiana Reformatory, Pendleton, Ind.).

This is the truth "Glory" of the average inmate of the State Reformatory

The years of their lives wasted, by them thrown away only to partake of the State's generosity.

They, with their bodies confined and their spirits so free, remain quite unexplicable to one sure as me.

Some will lie in a minute Even steal your eyeteeth Yet down to the last man They all hate at thief!

They, when their relations come for to bring them some cheer; some hang their heads to keep from crying.

There are those who are strong and those who are weak, They're all searching not knowing what they seek.

They're all so lonely beneath their artificial facade, Outwardly so strong Yet inwardly, somehow afraid.

This is their story Simple, yet true They could have been anyone Yes, even you.

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

Black power boys almost become fashionable

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY

Several months ago when the phrase "Black Power" first came to public attention, there was consternation in the ranks of Negroes who had worked long and hard for racial integration and also among the Negroes who had sat out what was called the Negro Civil Rights Revolution. It was common for Negro leaders to reassure the white leadership that Stokely and Rap spoke only for themselves and in no wise uttered the sentiments of the Negro civil rights movement nor of the commonality of Negroes in America.

It was also commonplace in those days a few months ago for Negroes among themselves to condemn vehemently the philosophy and utterances of the extremists who were tearing down all that had been patiently built up.

But in recent months there has been a slackening of the Negro denunciations of the "Black Power" advocates. This comes about not because Negroes have been converted to a philosophy of either hatred or violence. It is the development of the frustration of the Negroes who had worked for the ideal of integration only to find that the more it changed the more it was the same thing.

Negro leaders, in taking stock, noticed that in spite of laws and pronouncements in spite of Negroes being elected to high post or of being given jobs never previously held by Negroes, racial isolation in America was on the increase rather than a decline. They noticed that in direct proportion that a few Negroes advanced to better paying jobs, the economic gap between Negroes and whites steadily widened because of the unemployment of many Negroes and the underemployment of many others.

They also noticed that as Negroes became prosperous and bought or built out of the slum ghettos the ghetto moved with them even to the suburbs. The leaders of such organizations as the National Urban League, The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the group organized around the Rev. Martin Luther King, still clung to the straw hope of integration in the face of white resistance and indifference.

As vexed as they were with Carmichael and Brown they took notice that the white people, who had in the main lent deaf ears to Negro pleas for years, were paying a great deal of attention to these black power proponents.

The utterance of the hate groups and the black chauvinism which was used by them as a counter assertion to white chauvinism had compelled those high up in the white power structure to re-examine the race relations picture in our country.

These things and the rash of racial rebellions in so many American cities caused many communities to look at themselves to find out what was wrong.

There was nothing new. It was simply that what the NAACP had been telling America for decades—that something was wrong with American society and that a fundamental change in the treatment of the Negro minority was in order if America hoped to survive. The message is coming through clearer as time goes on although there are those among the majority who feel that a beefed up police department, the jailing of a few dozen Negroes like Stokely and Rap will solve the problem.

To the soberer heads, both Negro and white, it is apparent that while the Black Power advocates and their chief critics neither have a desirable solution to the present problem, at least the black chauvinists have touched the sore spot of our body politic.

They have diagnosed the present ills of the Negro and have noticed the resistance of white America to start on the road to an integrated society and they have decided that integration is strictly for the birds. They are asking for complete separation of a foolish bland-alley sort of solution. They also are advocating violence, because non-violence has not been able to get the job done.

The civil rights leaders, who are thankful for the fact that the extremists have been able to get the attention of the white power structure, are now hoping that the structure will now listen to them and adopt many of the suggestions made by them over more than half a century.

These leaders are unhappily aware of the fact that if America is to have racial integration, it must be initiated by white people since they are the ones who invented segregation as a way of life in America. It is at that point that the regular civil rights organizations are suffering from the desertion of many who have given up on the idea of integration and also of many whites who are not willing to pay the price of integration even to save America.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Keeping life's covenants

REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH SR.

LARGER LESSON: Mal. 1 and 2. LESSON PRINT: Mal. 1:6-9, 2:10, 13-16. MEMORY VERSE: Mal. 2:10. TIME: Fifth Century B.C. PLACE: Jerusalem. LESSON AIM: That Christians may recall and renew their covenant with God and one another.

Probably there is nothing more plausible today in all circles than this deep sense of of covenant relations among us. This implies promises and vows on both sides from father to son, from son to father, from God to man, from man to God, from husband to wife, from wife to husband, from employer to employee and from employee to employer, and the courage to live it.

Consider these short outlines as follows: I. Our Covenant With God (Mal. 1:6-9). II. Covenant with Others (Mal. 2:10). III. Covenant With Wife and Family (Mal. 2:13-16). Our 1967 Need (Matt. 28:19, 20).

OUR COVENANT WITH GOD. Our Old Testament is strewn with covenants. According to Scofield, there are six: Adamic, Noahic, Pauletanian, Edenic, Mosaic, and Davidic. We live under the New Covenant or The New Testament and we have some very basic responsibilities in it such as (1) repent and believe the Gospel; (2) be baptized; (3) find our fellowship in the church, and (4) respect the fatherhood of God.

Thus this is the cry of our lesson. If we are properly sons of God where is our honor for Him? The cutting side of this lesson is that as our respect for God slips it shows up in the way we give as follows:

(1) Instead of out and out giving to the church we would rather buy a ticket or a dinner or mess of chitterlings; (2) Often we put our children out to sell tickets to others, thus making them make the sacrifice; (3) We give irregularly skipping from Sunday to Sunday, and (4) We give miserly.

Senior citizen seeks aid from local ministers

To The Editor:

I saw in the Recorder where a group of Negro ministers are making a big fuss about the shortcomings of CAAP. They raised sand about the firing of some big shots.

I am a senior citizen which means that I am past 65 years old - too old to get a job and in need of help. I understand that CAAP was started to help us older folks. I wonder if the ministers will use their influence to get me some help from CAAP since the money has already been appropriated for that purpose.

They are creating jobs for young people. Why not do something for us older folks known as the senior citizens.

Information on health services is in exhibit

Several services provided by the local health department will be featured in an exhibit which will be on display through Dec. 15 in the lobby of the City County Building, according to Dr. Henry Nester, director of the division of public health.

Information regarding the important communicable diseases such as measles, the new measles vaccine, tetanus, and rabies, will also be available without charge at the exhibit.

The exhibit is part of a continuing effort of the League of Women Voters and cooperating agencies to inform the public of the many services available from the various units of local government.

The Recorder is anxious to print your opinion on current civil rights, political, international, civic or school events. If you desire to "speak out" on any subject, simply drop a letter to The Editor, Indianapolis Recorder, 518 Indiana Ave. Letters limited to 200 words are preferred. Remember, the "Voice of the People" column exists only through your contributions. Without them, it cannot be effective. Names of writers will be withheld if requested.

'Navajo Joe' and 'Kill A Dragon' start Sunday at Walker Theater

ATLANTIC RECORDS has launched a giant campaign behind the Billy Vera-Judy Clay recordings of "Storybook Children." The disc, released about a month ago, has turned into a solid smash in New York and is breaking in other major markets throughout the country. "Storybook Children" marks the first record featuring the team of Billy Vera and Judy Clay. Both Billy and Judy had made a name for themselves as single performers before joining up as a duo. Their first disc features a song written by Chip Taylor and Billy Vera, and concerns a boy and girl who live in two different worlds and wish they could live their lives like "Storybook Children." The record was produced by Chip Taylor and Ted Daryll.

Barbecue Heavens No. 5 New Store on N. Delaware

A man and an idea — that's businessman Forrest Jones, owner and founder of the widely-acclaimed Bar-B-Q Heavens (purveyors of the best tasting barbecue sold anywhere) has opened his fifth restaurant in downtown Indianapolis at 620 N. Delaware St. with a courteous staff to serve you.

Mr. Jones' idea and secret (sauce making) plus good business policy have paid off handsomely since he started with a small place next to Mary Raper's tavern on Indiana Ave. at Douglass.

Today he owns and operates five restaurants at 2149 N. College, 2515 North-western, 877 East 30th., the newly-opened store on Delaware and 823 Indiana Ave., where the main store and office is located. His Catering Unlimited, a subsidiary firm catering to clubs, organizations and what have you, is located in its own building in the rear of main store at 823 Indiana Ave. Today the barbecue chain, which started with a capital of $35 and using about 200 pounds of meat a week, now uses about 8 tons of meat and $900,000 sales volume. And, you guessed it — it's the sauce, his secret weapon to success.

The management of the Walker theater wishes to thank the Indianapolis public for its wonderful patronage of the picture "To Sir, With Love," and wants to assure all theatergoers that the Walker will continue to bring the best obtainable pictures for their enjoyment. And starting Sunday are two exciting films, "Navajo Joe" and "Kill A Dragon."

So widely did gorgeous Nicoletta Machiavelli score in her first action western under the aegis of the Dina De Laurentiis-CB. Films production "The Hills Run Red," that she not only won a second starring role in a western production by the same producers, but Italy's famed Federico Fellini is going to star her in one of his forthcoming films.

The new western is the United Artists release in Techniscope and Technicolor "Navajo Joe," directed by Sergio Corbucci from a Ugo Pirro script opening Sunday at the Walker Theatre. She co-stars opposite TV's noted Burt Reynolds who makes his stellar film debut in the new opus.

Fresh from his recent triumph in "The Professionals" comes Jack Palance to co-star with Fernando Lamas and Aldo Ray in Aubrey Schenck's "Kill A Dragon," in Color by DeLuxe opening Sunday at the Walker Theatre.

Artists, a Transamerica Company. Story of smuggling and intrigue in the Hong Kong-Kowloon-Macao area is by Gerge Schenck and William Marks. Hal Klein produced and Michael Moore directed.

MARITAL WOES

LAS VEGAS — (NPI) — The interracial marriage of multi-talented entertainer Sammy Davis, Jr., and former Swedish actress My Britt hit a snag last week when the couple agreed to a trial separation. The Davises' difficulties apparently resulted from his wife "getting bored" with Davis' long absences from home, leaving her alone with their daughter, Tracey, 6, and sons, Mark, 7, and Jeff, 3.

RADIO AUDIENCES can now hear the nation's top rhythm and blues singer, Aretha Franklin, singing the famous jingle for Coca-Cola. Aretha is the latest addition to a special group of entertainers who sing, "Things Go Better With Coke," in their own distinctive style. The commercials for Coke by Aretha vary in length from 60 to 90 seconds and may be heard on radio stations across the country. Aretha's recordings are continuously at the top of record poll listings. Only recently, Aretha set an all-time attendance record at the Regal theater in Chicago.

Bill Cosby will do Radio Show for Coca-Cola

The Coca-Cola Co. and Bill Cosby's Campbell-Silver-Cosby Corp. have announced the conclusion of negotiations for Cosby to star in "The Bill Cosby Radio Program For Coca-Cola," a show created by the actor-comic himself.

The show will be a five minute, five-times-a-week program syndicated throughout the country by Coke, which will slot it on "top 40" stations starting January 15. Thus far 570 Markets have purchased the show.

The contract calls for Cosby to tape 350 shows for Cosby over the coming 18 months. Over one million dollars will be paid by Coke for time and talent and this price tag is purported to be the largest ever paid for this type of programming.

TAKING FIVE—On the set of Stanley Kramer's Columbia Pictures release, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," Sidney Poitier points out some activity to Miss Isabella Sanford, who makes her motion picture debut in the Technicolor production filmed on location in San Francisco and Hollywood. Miss Sanford who earned her reputation on the stage, delivers some of the funniest lines in the picture in scenes with Poitier. Poitier co-stars with Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn, whose daughter, played by Katherine Houghton, tells them she plans to marry Poitier. Miss Sanford earned her important role based on stage ability seen by Kramer without a screening test or reading.

Ida Cox, noted Blues Singer, dies at 70, in Knoxville

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Ida Prather Cox, famed blues singer of the Roaring Twenties, died here last week at the age of 78 after a three-year battle against cancer.

Mrs. Cox suffered a stroke in 1945 and had lived here with a daughter since then.

During her long career she appeared with Jelly Roll Morton, Lionel Hampton and many other jazz "greats."

Born in Cedartown Ga., Mrs.

Cox entered show business at the age of 14 when she ran away from home to join the "Black and Tan" Minstrel Show. Later, she traveled with other touring shows and eventually became a favorite of audiences across the country.

Among the songs she helped make hits were "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey," and "Hard." At the height of her career Mrs. Cox recorded on the old Vocalion-Okeh label, and waxed such songs as "Moaning, Groaning Blues," "Hard Times," "Ramblin' Blues," and "Rampart Street, New Orleans."

For a time, she sang with King Oliver's band at the Plantation Club in Chicago. In the band behind her was a young trumpeter named Louis Armstrong.

Her most recent record was "Blues for Rampart Street" on the Riverside label.

ITALY'S gorgeous Nicoletta Machiavelli, descendant of the famous Nicolo, has a key role in the violent tale of the old Indiana frontier "Navajo Joe," with Burt Reynolds in the title role, which opens Sunday at the Walker theater in Technicolor.

ALIZIA GUR co-stars in "Kill A Dragon" opening Sunday at the Walker theater with stars Jack Palance, Fernando Lamas and Aldo Ray. The new film was shot in its entirety in and around Hong Kong, Kowloon and Macao. Here's a picture full of Far East fireworks.

BIG JOHN WAYNE 'MINIATURIZED': Hollywood's big man, 6-foot-4 John Wayne, stood in only a slight depression for the rare experience of being out-pointed in "man mountain-ness" when some Los Angeles Rams football players visited the set of "Green Berets." Rams from left are 6-foot-5 "Deacon" Jones, 6-foot-7 Lamar Lundy and 6-foot Roger Brown.

BECOMES PRODUCER NEW YORK... (NPI) — Academy award-winning actor Sidney Poitier last week signed a three-year, non-exclusive, multiple production with Columbia Pictures as a producer-developer of original subjects in a milestone development for Negroes in motion pictures. Actually, in order to utilize Poitier's creative producing talent, Columbia signed the contract with the E & R Production Corporation, a firm headed by Poitier. As producer, Poitier will develop original "life" subjects for Columbia.

Super Jet Chain to plow its profits back into community
BALTIMORE, M.D. — Plans to plow grocery store profits back into the community from which they originate became reality in at least one city Tuesday (Nov. 14) when Jet Food Corporation opened the first of a nationwide chain of food markets in a predominantly Negro section of this city.
Jet Food is the brain child of Herman T. Smith, veteran Negro marketing specialist, who is President and Chairman of the Board of the corporation. Jet's Baltimore outlet is one of a dozen stores now being developed. Other Jet Food Corporation officers include Charles P. Tilghman, vice president and treasurer; Hon. John R. Hargrove, former associate judge of the People's Court of Baltimore, corporate counsel and board member; George L. Small consultant and board member. Mr. Small is president of P. A. and S. Small Company, a large grocery wholesale firm; Miss Shirley E. Doneghy, vice president and corporate secretary; Andrew T. Hatcher, associate White House press secretary under President Kennedy is also a board member.
"Food is the biggest business in central-city communities today," Smith said, speaking to an organizing committee in Winston-Salem. "Negroes, who make up 70 per cent of the population in these areas, spend one-fourth of their income for food, a significantly higher proportion than that spent by the population as a whole." One reason for this, according to Smith, "is that the Negro family on the average, is 25 per cent larger than that of whites. The Negro family is also younger than its white counterpart, and in addition, its rate of annual increase is three times that of the general population. Of the U.S. population under 14, one in seven is a Negro. This is in contrast with an overall ratio of 1 Negro for every 10 whites nationally."
Smith predicts that Negro families will spend some $7 billion in food this year, a 17 per cent increase over 1966. Because of this, a food market located in the central-city figures to be far more profitable than supermarkets in outlying areas. Despite these statistics, less than one quarter of one per cent of central-city food markets are owned by Negroes. "Only in a very few instances do Negroes share management responsibilities in these stores, where huge profits are syphoned away and used to improve other communities," he stated.
Declaring that central-city residents are being "short changed" because of absentee ownership of stores in their communities, Smith said that unless this situation is corrected, central-city will continue to disintegrate.
"Think of what could happen if these people were given the opportunity to operate, manage and own these profitable supermarkets," he said. "Ownership will increase their dignity and stake in the community."
Dignity is what Smith and his co-investors are seeking for the Negro. The profit motive is there too, but it seems somewhat secondary in the minds of this pioneering group.
Mr. Smith, who initiated the Jet Food Market idea, has 30 years of marketing and merchandising experience to back it up. A native of Norfolk, Mr. Smith started his career with the Pittsburgh Courier where he was eastern regional manager for three years. In 1938 he was appointed Director of Special Markets for the Pepsi Cola Company and established for that company a hold on the Negro market which was without precedent in our pre-war economy. During war years he reverted to his newspaper experience and served as a war correspondent for NNPA, after which he joined the executive staff of National Distillers.

Shriners to host needy children

Persian Temple Shriners, under the leadership of Illustrious Potentate Willie J. Forte, will host their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children Saturday, Dec. 23.

Fast Potentate Alvin Reno, imperial auditor, has headed this project for a number of years and is again serving as general chairman.

Preparations are being made to feed and entertain over 300 children whose names have been provided by local welfare and neighborhood agencies. A complete turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be served.

The potentate and chairman are urging all Nobles of the Mystic Shrine to be present to assist in serving and supervising the children. As usual, the Daughters of Isis will join the nobility in this annual project which will be held in the gym on the first floor at the Prince Hall Masonic Temple, 653 N. West.

eration. He was accompanied by Lee A. Burton, director of the Metropolitan Park Department, whom he will retain at that post.

The drawback in developing after-school hours for building is a matter of finance, according to Mr. Lugar. The Flint plan was maintained mostly by a charitable foundation, he pointed out.

MISS Judith Waugh (third from left) coaches the group on noting ideas in "The Lonely Crowd," a book about social character. The students are (from left to right) Penny White, Zella Flye, and Eloys Parks, all seniors. The group will appear on television Saturday, Dec. 9, at 9 a.m. on Channel 8. The panel will be questioned by Alexander Moore, principal, and Miss Waugh of the English department.

MUSICAL PROGRAM IS TO BENEFIT XMAS FUND

ters mark 52-50. The score was tied 32-31 at the half.

Northwest outshot Coach Jerry Oliver's squad, 540 to 380, but Washington got many second and third shots due to their height advantage.

The Pioneers had four players in double figures, led by Charles Jones with 23 points, Ted Young 14, and Ken Stout and Dave McClellan with 12 each.

McGinnis, also an all-state football end, tallied 37 points Saturday night as the Continentals defeated South Bend Central, 76-60. Dwight Cole finished with 17 points and W. Jones got 10.

Crispus Attucks' young Tigers split their weekend schedule, losing 64-59 to Bedford Friday, and defeating Chartrand, 91-36.

Howard Winston scored 28 points to give the Bedford Stonecutters their first victory over an Attucks team. The Tigers trailed 49-35 after three quarters, but came on strong in the fourth stanza only to fall short of the final score.

The Tigers placed three men in double figures. Isaac Robinson 11, and Ray Griffith and Sherman Lester 10 each.

On Saturday night, Coach Don Thomas' boy pounded Chartrand for four quarters for their second victory in four starts.

Lindell Reid hit for 19 points, Robinson 15 and Lester 13.

The Shortage Blue Devils, behind the 34-point output of Oscar Evans, knocked Ben Davis from the ranks of the unbeat-ens in a 73-69 tilt Friday night at Ben Davis.

Leonard Taylor aided the cause with 16 points.

Evans, a 6-4 senior who has been averaging 28 points per game, pumped in 23 points Saturday night against Richmond, winning against 62-54. Greg Allen tallied 18 for last year's Indianapolis Semistate finalist.

Wood's Woodchucks, who lost their 6-11 center Greg Northington to graduation, open their season with a 67-59 victory on the home court, but lost to Arlington the following night, 74-59.

The Tech Titans won their second contest of the young season at the expense of Arlington, 53-38, as Jim Price hit for 18 points and junior Ray Roark 13.

Led by Price's 19 markers, the Titans proved to be too much for Elwood as they pushed their record to 3-1 with a 70-38 win over the visitors.

James Lewis and Danny Price tallied 13 and 12 respectively for Coach Jack Brandford's squad.

Other games scheduled for this week are as follows:

FRIDAY -- Arlington (2-2) at Secunia (0-1), Broad Ripple (1-3) at Northwest (1-3), Cathedral (3-0) at Brebeuf (1-3), Deaf School (1-1) at Park (1-2), Eminence at Kennedy (1-2), Howe (1-3) at Marshall (2-1), New Albany at Manual (2-2), (2-2), and Ritter (2-0) at Plainfield Chariton.

SATURDAY -- Deaf School at Beech Grove, Elwood at Cathedral, Howe at Lawrence Central, Manuel at Columbus, and Westfield at Ritter.

Boilermakers

At this point, Lynn Shackelford, who was starting forward last season, came into the game and teamed up with Lucious Allen to take a 45-41 halftime lead.

It was nip and tuck the rest of the way slightly over one minute remaining in the ball game, Gilliam hit his 21st point and that made it 71-70, UCLA. The Bruins had a chance to ice it with 53 seconds left, but lost the ball out-of-bounds to Purdue. At this point the crowd went wild.

Coach George King's aggregation had a chance to go ahead but the new five-second ruling forced a jump ball and the Bruins recovered, but missed another attempt for a two-point.

With 30 seconds remaining, All-American Edgar Lacey fouled Mount, forcing a one-and-one situation. He protested a little too vigorously to the official, prompting a technical.

Mount missed the first shot, but made the "technical" shot making it a tie ball game at 71. Because of the technical, Purdue got the ball out of bounds, but Mount missed one from the corner with 10 seconds showing on the clock.

Towering Lew Alcindor picked off his last 19 rebounds, forcing it to Sweek who let it go just as soon as he crossed the center stripe. Purdue attempted to call time out, but the clock beat them to the officials.

The Boilermakers fired a hot 468 from the field on 29 of 62 attempts, while UCLA managed only 30 of 78 for 385. Both teams hit 13 free throws, but the Purdue had more chances as they missed nine to UCLA's five.

Chuck Bavis, 7-foot-0 sophomore from Garrett, did an outstanding defensive job on the 7-foot-1½ Alcindor, holding him to just 17 points.

Mount led all scorers with 28 points, hitting 11 of 27 from the field and 6 of 8 from the 15-foot mark. Gilliam was the only other Boilermaker in double figures, but the play of Bavis and guard Bill Keller were outstanding. Keller, a product of Indianapolis Washington and "Mr. Basketball" of 1965, has got to be one of the best guards in the business as he constantly broke the famous UCLA press.

Lacey and Mike Lynn, two members of the 1965-66 UCLA team who missed last season, started the contest but managed only eight points between them.

Allen and Shackelford (the lad with the sweet left hand) carried scoring honors for the Bruins with 18 points each.

Alcindor & Company got one good scare and they can be thankful they don't have to play again—at least during the regular season, but look out tourney time!

Indiana's Fighting Hoosiers their campaign off too a good start, defeating Northern Illinois Saturday afternoon, 71-65, and Missouri Monday night, 78-68.

Rated 11th in the pre-season poll, but dropped to 16th this week, the Hoosiers had 19 points each from Vernon Payne and Earl Schneider in their season opener against Northern Illinois.

Veteran forward Butch Joyner tallied 12 as Indiana shot a poor 37.9.

In Monday night's contest, 6-foot-10 Bill DeHeer paved the way with 25 points, while Payne and Joyner were held to a total

Tuning in on ANDERSON

By Madelyn Irvin—Phone 644-5179

ANDERSON — The student and her son attended the union Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings Thanksgiving Day.

The purpose of the activity was to raise additional finances for the fund which is used to further the education of worthy Anderson students who might not otherwise be able to complete their course of study.

Some 60 Urban Leaguers and other people took part in donating articles for the sale. Dr. Val Clear, head of the sociology and social work department at Anderson College and former president of the League's board of director, was auctioneer.

Jack Samuels, director of the O.E.O. Community Action Against Poverty program, was master of ceremonies for the formal program proceeding the auction. Judge Carl T. Smith gave the invocation. Entertainment was furnished by Miss Vonda Germany, pianist, and Dan Rinker who presented a number from "The Music Man."

Both are Anderson College students. A brief history of the student loan fund was given by William Harper.

Members of the sponsoring group include Dr. Villa Deubach, chairman; Max Beigh, James Armstrong, Oscar Taylor, Dr. Harold Linamen, Dr. Alvin Bridges, Morris Rossen, Zebedeo Christian Sr., George E. West, Dr. Norman Beard, Mrs. Ted Stearn, Mrs. Ethel Albright, and Mrs. Howard Burt.

Homer LaRue, son of Mrs. Juanita LaRue, head nurse in the O.B. nursery, has been quite active in the Purdue Readers of Anderson. He recently directed performances of "In White America" by Martin B. Duberman. The production is a documentary of Negro history in the U.S.A. in the last 200 years.

A graduate of St. Mary's Senior High School, Mr. LaRue won the city's regional rotary speech contest while attending there. He is an active member of the Purdue Readers, an oral interpretation group which is achieving popularity at Purdue.

Mr. LaRue has also appeared in "The Investigation" by Peter Weiss and others. He is a sophomore enrolled in the school of journalism.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph C. Brown of Richmond, Ind., entertained his mother, Rev. Mrs. Madelyn Irvin of Anderson, and his sister, Mrs. Mildred Dundy of Gary, with an annual lovely turkey dinner with all the trimmings Thanksgiving Day.

While there, Rev. Mrs. Irvin and her son attended the union Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings Thanksgiving Day.

Miss Carolyn Estell entered Ball State University where she will major in elementary education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Cameron Estell of Anderson.

A delegation of Anderson High School students in Diversified Cooperation Education (D.C.E.) attended the group's state convention recently in Indianapolis in the Senate Chambers of the State House.

Organizations of the several clubs scattered about Indiana were represented Anderson had six seniors present who won state honors. Local nominees included Ron Davis, vice-president; Sharon Zink, secretary; Pam Western, treasurer; Dan Polhemus, parliamentarian, and Carol Weiss, reporter. Forty officers were elected. After the candidates spoke, a luncheon was held at Harry E. Wood High School.

Anderson placed two students in state officers last year. Paul-ette Bennett and Mary Rogers. D.C.E. students attend classes at Anderson High School a half day and are employed in selected jobs around the city earning credit toward graduation. Accompanying the student group were Miss Bennett, Mary Rogers, Clifford Swift, and Don Dietzer, D. C. E. coordinator at Anderson High School.

Claude D. Ely, known to many as the Gospel Ranger, spoke at the Full Gospel Holiness Church recently. Rev. John Parks was host pastor. A recording artist, Rev. Ely is widely-known throughout this area.

Ellis Turner, 67, 1032 Cedar, died at the family home. Brooks Memorial Chapel was in charge. Rev. James Minifie officiated at the funeral. Burial was in

Selective Service regulations

Set out below, according to Colonel Robert K. Custer, State Director of the Service Selective System, are questions most frequently asked of the Selective Service System along with appropriate answers.

Question: Can you tell me what changes in personal status a registrant must report to his local board?

Answer: It is the duty of every classified registrant to keep his local board currently informed of any fact that might result in the registrant being placed in a different classification. These are facts such as, but not limited to, any change in his occupational, marital, family, dependency, and military status, of his physical condition, of his home address, and of his receipt of any professional degree in medical dental, or allied specialist category. It is further noted that the registrant must report any change in such status to his local board within 10 days after the change occurs. The report must be in writing.

Question: I was told that each component of a Selective Service number has a meaning. Will you identify these for me?

Answer: A Selective Service number consists of four elements. The first identifies the numerical designation of the State in which the man is registered; the second is the number of his local board in that State; the third is the last two digits of his year of birth; and the fourth is the relative position, according to the sequence of dates of birth, of the registrant among other registrants of his board who were born in the same year.

Question: What is the organizational structure of the Selective Service System?

Answer: As permanent, independent agency of the Executive branch between campuses so that students and faculty can see what is done and discussed by their contemporaries throughout the country. R&W is in its second year of publication.

R&W magazine is available at many university bookstores, as well as off-campus bookstores and newsstands all over the country. A year's subscription of six issues is only $1.50.

Your professional beautician knows the answer...

Is peroxide needed to color unwanted gray hair?

Hair care and beauty experts know that the first traces of gray hair—and even slight fading of natural color after chemical relaxing—can dull a woman's appearance and make her look older than she feels. While most women hate these premature aging effects, many are hesitant about using permanent peroxide haircoloring which may change the natural hair color while coloring gray.

Professionally-trained hairdressers know the importance of their customers' preferences when unwanted gray becomes a problem. These experts also know that Clairol created semi-permanent Loving Care® hair color lotion without peroxide... to color only the gray without changing the natural shade. They also find Loving Care blends back color faded by chemical processing. Because of its mildness, Loving Care maintains healthy looking hair and lasts through a month of shampoos.

Whatever a woman's reason for wanting Loving Care for her hair, she is always wise to consult a professional beautician. Hairdressers are equipped with a family of fine Clairol products and the training to promise each patron the loveliest and most personalized haircoloring effects every time she visits her salon. If you dislike gray, and want no peroxide, why not ask your beautician to glamorize it with Loving Care?

what techniques of protests would be used, but he hinted they would include sit-downs to block entrances of Federal buildings, including the Capitol.

The Government's reluctance to recognize aims of the peaceful demonstrations "may well mean the curtain of doom will fall on American civilization," Dr. King pointed out. He added: "I do not believe we can live through another one or two summers like we had this year."

The SCLC head said that while the campaign is directed primarily toward domestic reforms, peace organizations have been asked to join.

He added: "And yet I say that unless you keep vigorously pressing on the problem of segregation at the same time, you give people a way of crossing segregation off their consciences."

Mr. Howe predicted that it will take years to obtain substantial integration, especially in Northern cities, and that he understands the discouragement of civil rights leaders. He said studies in New York and San Francisco casting doubt on the value of busing were fragmentary and offered conflicting evidence. Mr. Howe is an advocate of busing.

Another study found that Negro children bused to white schools in White Plains, N.Y., improved their achievement levels. The commissioner noted: "Really, we just have to wait for very broad judgments on the effect of busing and integration."

In an interview, Mr. Howe said that the primary reason to have Negroes and whites go to school together is not to learn reading, writing and arithmetic, but to have one society instead of two.

He emphasized that integration promoted racial harmony because "mutual suspicion among human beings disappears when they get to know each other." Regarding integration, he asserted: "Over a period of time I think it is going to help the learning outcomes of youngsters from poor families—both Negroes and whites."

Skating badges anticipated

Cadet Girl Scouts in the Ke-Em-She District are busily earning their skating badges by attending ice-skating lessons each week at the Coliseum. When their two-months training has ended, the girls must take a written exam and handmake pompons to go on their skates.

The Cadette Scouts of Troop 394 are Misses Janice Bracken, Sandra Caldwell, Paula Caldwell, Pamela Dawson, Sherri Duke, Ramona Frederick, Karen Haver, Lynda Jackson, Lisa Malone, Julie Mosley, Jerri Patton, Phyllis Pierce, Shelia Rowland, Stephanie Rowland, Brenda Simpson, Evelyn Simpson, Wanda Scrivener, Charlene Williams and Sharon Kimble. Patrol leader is Mrs. Kenneth Williams.

groes in such posts in the local union, the Relations Commission report revealed.

Mr. Hemmons said that the important task is getting Negro youths into the apprenticeship program. This was also pointed out in a report on "An All White Union" released by acting director Ernest Reuter.

Mr. Reuter noted there were favorable reactions to recommendations that apprenticeship and union officials meet with Negro contractors to determine ways of overcoming roadblocks for young Negroes who might be interested in the electrical trade and that apprenticeship officials authorize their director to develop a relation with the Urban League of Gary to insure that Negro applications be followed up.

Mr. Reuter said the union reported suggestions to standardize application procedures and have educators validate apprenticeship testing measures.

It had been previously disclosed that the U.S. Justice Department has been investigating the union to determine its compliance with federal regulations where government contracts are involved.

think eliminating police imperfections would solve "the problems underlying the current wave of civil disorders."

In rebuttal Quinn Tamm, executive director of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, criticized "the tendency among those in authority to view disturbances with wide toleration," and said "other dissatisfaction among our ranks stems from the leniency of the courts and their hesitancy to convict when the race issue is raised as a defense."

Mr. Tamm said that police were demoralized because "minority group members seen in increasing readiness to complain about what we consider minor matters, routine methods and police actions that are essential and unavoidable in the enforcement of law."

Lewis and Bobbitt rushed into the house both brandishing shotguns.

Drain then pulled a pistol from his pocket and the trio demanded money.

Lovelace said he managed to pull a .25 caliber automatic and managed to fire several shots before the gun jammed.

However, the intended victim reported, during the resulting confusion, he rushed to his first-floor bedroom where he obtained a .45 caliber automatic.

Police called to the Belmont Avenue address about 1:30 a.m. Monday on the report of a shooting, found Lovelace which suffering from a chest wound had been inflicted by a .12 gauge shotgun. On the sidewalk about 50 feet from the shooting scene the officers discovered Drain's body.

Shortly before 2 a.m. police were called to the West 10th Street Veterans Administration Hospital on a "man shot" report. At Veterans the officers found Lewis, suffering from .45 caliber bullet wounds in the chest and hip.

Lovelace told Det. Sgt. Earl Martin and Det. Joe McCoy of the police homicide and robbery division that he had shot Drain and Lewis when the pair, along with a third man, later identified as James Bobbitt, 39, 1144 Eugene, attempted to rob him (Lovelace) before he was felled by the shotgun blast fired by one of the would be holdup men.

Sgt. Martin told The Recorder that Lovelace said he fired several more shots with the forty-five, striking Drain and Lewis.

Drain, the detectives said, spun around, crashed through a storm door and ran about 50 feet down Belmont before collapsing on the sidewalk.

Bobbitt and Lewis fled out the door, Lovelace reported, and sped from the scene in a 1962 Cadillac.

Sgt. Martin said Bobbitt dropped off Lewis, who was bleeding profusely from the chest wound, at the emergency entrance at Veterans Hospital and then drove away.

He was arrested a short time later in the 2100 block of Harding when an officer recognized the car after hearing a dispatch on the police radio.

Lewis was transferred to General Hospital where he has been confined under arrest on a preliminary charge of robbery.

Sgt. Martin and Det. McCoy said that a charge of inflicting bodily injury while in the commission of a robbery and trol the "real tough nut."

He added: "The Senate is taking this without substantial change. It was a tough decision, but I believe in the end the bill is not only better than no bill at all, but holds out some hope for a meaningful program for the poor."

Sen. Clark indicated that the Republican conferees from both House and Senate were undecided on whether they would sign the agreement. After minor details are worked out on the antipoverty be ready for action by the House and Senate next week.

Although giving up on the local control amendment, the Senate won a sizable increase in the funds authorized for the Office of Economic Opportunity. The House had approved a one-year program funded at $1.6 billion and the Senate had approved a two-year program at $2.2 billion. The actual appropriation for the program will have to be agreed on in a separate fund bill.

The Senate was also successful in stripping from the House bill a requirement that local communities put up 10 percent of the cost of an antipoverty project in cash. The law presently permits communities to make their contribution in services or facilities, and that provision was retained in the compromise agreement.

an outright charge of robbery were to be filed against Lewis and Bobbitt on Friday.

The detectives also said that Lewis had served a prison sentence after a robbery conviction New York several years ago.

brief that "the evidence is absolutely overwhelming that the state exercised extensive control in such a manner as to perpetuate a dual school system based upon race."

The Supreme Court also reasoned that Alabama's tuition grant law is unconstitutional. Segregationist Governor Lurleen Wallace and her aides previously indicated that state funds to the traditionally Negro Tuskegee Institute would be halted if the tuition law were overruled.

The law, passed in August, would have authorized payment of $185 per pupil for those who wished to attend a private school and thus have supported segregated schools with state funds.

In commenting on the court ruling, Jack Greenberg, director-counsel of the NAACP legal defense and educational fund, said the decision "will have an enormous impact" because Southern schools that have resisted desegregation can now be fought through statewide suits.

White, black Baptists hold meet

GREEN LAKE, WIS., — The recent "Consultation on the Baptist Church in Metropolis, Black and White" had a five-fold purpose which delegates from cities located in urban areas where there have been racial tensions and violence during the past several years discussed.

Among those attending was Rev. Robert E. Penn, pastor of First Baptist Church. The 75 conference members were divided evenly between Negro and white pastors and denominational executives.

Sponsored by the American Baptist Association, the Home Mission Agencies, the conference's aim were to share with Negro pastors the program and policies of the predominantly white American Baptist convention, share with American Baptist staff the philosophies, strengths and needs of Negro churches, improve existing relationships, develop climate of trust between whites and Negroes and move toward a full acceptance of each other.

The Negro participants have churches that are related to the National Baptist Convention Inc., National Baptist Convention of America and the Progressive National Baptist Convention.

Old Taylor Presents: Ingenious Americans

Norbert Rillieux (1806-1894)

He made all our lives a little sweeter.

Norbert Rillieux began life on a plantation near New Orleans. He was a bright child and eager to learn. So his father, anxious that the boy receive a good education, sent him to Paris.

Rillieux quickly lived up to all expectations. He published several papers on the steam engine and its economy and was soon an instructor at one of the finest Paris academies.

His education and training behind him, Rillieux decided to return to the U.S. to put his talents to use.

In the early 1840's sugar was manufactured by a slow, primitive method known as the "Jamaica Train". This made it an expensive luxury that only a few could afford.

One day, Rillieux ran his fingers through a small bowl of coarse, brown sugar, and felt sure that something could be done to make it better and cheaper.

So he set to work.

By 1846 he had developed a process that turned sugar cane juice into a finer grade of sugar at about half the cost. The Rillieux Process was quickly adopted by Cuban and Mexican sugar refineries and Norbert Rillieux was soon the most famous engineer in the state of Louisiana.

Several years later Rillieux returned to France, only to find Europeans completely disinterested in his new sugar process. So, he turned to archeology and spent ten years deciphering hieroglyphics.

Eventually, Europe realized the value of the Rillieux sugar process, and adopted it in its refineries. With renewed interest, Rillieux again turned to engineering; this time applying his process to the sugar beet. Results: Sugar production costs were cut in half.

Norbert Rillieux did for sugar what Eli Whitney did for cotton. We may take his invention for granted now, but each teaspoon of sugar that goes into our cup of coffee should remind us of this ingenious American.
